

George Attia, MD, MBA

Dr. George Attia is the Director of the UHealth Reproductive and Fertility Center, Director of the Division of Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility, and an Associate Professor at the University of Miami's Miller School of Medicine. Dr. Attia is a long-time expert in the field of Reproductive Medicine. Before taking charge of UHealth Reproductive and Fertility Center he was the In-Vitro Fertilization Program Director at the University of Texas. Dr Attia Started his training as Senior House Officer in England. He moved in the United States in 1991, where he completed his Obstetrics and Gynecology residency at the University of Miami/Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami and his Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility fellowship at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas. He is Board Certified in Obstetrics and Gynecology and in Reproductive Infertility and is a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (F.A.C.O.G.). Dr. Attia has been the author of several scientific publications and served as senior investigator in many clinical trials. He has been guest speaker to numerous national and international conferences; he is recognized as one of the top educators in the field of fertility.

