

Dr. Nick Raine- Fenning

Nick Raine-Fenning is a Reader of Reproductive Medicine and Surgery at the University of Nottingham and a Consultant Gynecologist at Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust.

Nick also acts as Clinical and Scientific Director of Nurture Fertility, part of The Fertility Partnership, the largest providers of IVF and assisted reproduction in the UK.

Nick is an internationally recognised expert in 3D ultrasound and gynecological imaging. He has given numerous invited talks, plenary sessions and workshops all over the World and published over 170 peer-reviewed papers, review articles, opinions, and editorials.

Nick's main research interests are related to the application of ultrasound which he and his team use to individualise patient care and predict outcome.

Nick has served on the Executive Boards of the British Fertility Society, the Clinical Study Group for Reproductive Medicine, the Wellbeing of Women and the International Society of Ultrasound in Obstetrics and Gynaecology and now chairs their Scientific Committee.